Wow, Cari!

I am filled with joy that you are able to find something that you are passionate about, get to continue the mission and allow you to put your family first.

I am filled with sadness as I envision JRF without you! What a journey it has been and as we have all learned too well over the past years, our way of way may change but the connections and commitment that we have to each other and to the cause of teaching and learning is stronger than ever.

I am filled with excitement to hear about your new experiences and learnings.

Let us know when you get a new email address!

Also, I truly hope that you continue to participate in our monthly calls – it is so invigorating to have those rich conversations!

Wishing you all the best! Thank you for all the support, care and guidance you have provided over the years!

ENJOY!

Subject: Farewell

Dear All,
I'm writing to share that I've recently been offered a position with Jeb Bush's Foundation for Excellence in Education and I've accepted the position. It's bitter sweet for me, but I'm looking forward to the opportunity and new adventure! I started the JRF! journey with Mary Laura, and hope to work with her to continue the reading mission in other states! I've thoroughly enjoyed my seven years of work here at DOE, but it is time for me to put my family first! This job will allow me to do just that. You all are so passionate about the work we do to improve reading achievement in this state, which has been so refreshing. You all have been so good to me, and I can't thank you enough. Professionally, I wouldn't be the woman I am today without each of you! Thank you all for being such a great group to work with and LEARN from. Please, please, please keep in touch!

I will surely miss all of you! Please don't hesitate to call me at home if you all need anything (or just want to say hello)! I hope I can do the same. ☺

Sincerely,
Cari Miller
