Subject: Meeting this afternoon

Dear All,

Thank you so much for taking time to meet together this afternoon to discuss the NGCAR-PD observation tool and the alignment of this document with teacher evaluation tools. Our conversation was very helpful, and John provided us with some great insight and information. Further, I truly appreciate your expertise in regard to the roll out of the new Reading Endorsement. We are off to a great start in preparing some tools and processes for district to update their Reading Endorsement add-on plans and for institutions to update their courses. Kevin has already checked with our ~~12~~ Plan programmers who said it will be relatively simple to add a page on the front page of the plan for districts to update their matrix – this should work out well for the districts and for us. We're still thinking about the best way for institutions to submit their matrices to us. It would be great if that could be done electronically as well.

Thanks to Denise for providing me with some great information to reference as I revisit the correspondence that has been crafted. I will begin making some revisions to the documents I provided and then send them your way for review. Hopefully, we can get information in the hands of our folks very quickly so they can begin the work of revisiting their courses to align them with the new indicators.

Thanks to all of you for the work you do every day. Have a great afternoon and evening!
