Cari,

I think that the attached is at least part of what you need. These two files provide data on the 2002-03 and 2003-04 cohorts of third grade students (both promoted and retained) from Pre-K all the way to Grade 12.

Let me know if this helps.

Have a great day and thanks again for all that you do!

Sincerely,

I have this, but it's not based on retained students, rather grade 3 students that scored level 2, and their performance thereafter. But this may be what I need, but basing it off our first cohort of retained student (due to them scoring level 1 in 2002-2003, and serving their retained year in third grade in 2003-2004) VS. grade 3 students scoring Level 1 who were PROMOTED.

Basically replace level 2 with level 1 retained students, and replace Level 3 or above performance with level 2 or above performance.

2002-03 GRADE 3 FCAT READING
TOTAL LEVEL 1 STUDENTS RETAINED in 3 rd GRADE	LEVEL 1 STUDENTS RETAINED IN 3 RD GRADE WHO SCORED A LEVEL 2 ANYTIME AFTER GRADE 3 ¹		LEVEL 1 STUDENTS RETAINED IN 3 RD GRADE WHO SCORED A LEVEL 2 ANYTIME AFTER GRADE 3 AND NEVER SCORED BELOW LEVEL 2 AFTER GRADE 3 ¹
#	#	%	#	%
2002-03 GRADE 3 FCAT READING
TOTAL LEVEL 1 STUDENTS PROMOTED BASED ON GOOD CAUSE OR JUST CAUSE!	LEVEL 1 STUDENTS PROMOTED WHO SCORED A LEVEL 2 ANYTIME AFTER GRADE 3 ¹		LEVEL 1 STUDENTS PROMOTED WHO SCORED A LEVEL 2 ANYTIME AFTER GRADE 3 AND NEVER SCORED BELOW LEVEL 2 AFTER GRADE 3 ¹

Etc. (although I'm thinking that the highest level isn't going to be applicable for these students, but you never know.)

I'd also still want of those retained (first cohort), what percent are in 11th grade VS. the percent of those promoted (yet scored level 1 in 2002-2003) that are in 12th grade.

Sincerely,
Cari

Hey,
Let me know if I need to request this through the data folks formally. I'd like to be able to determine how our first cohort of retained students are doing now. They would be in 11th grade right now. I'm not sure how to find this out except to first find out what percent of the 2002-2003 student who scored level 1 and were retained (first cohort of retained students), are now in 11th grade. We might could see how they've scored on FCAT each year since. Like what percent of those retained, scored Level 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 each year after the retention. Just hoping you all may have this latter data already, but I'm pretty sure we don't have data to answer my first question.

Let me know how to proceed in the timeliest manner. Thanks!

Sincerely,
