Dear Ms. Land,

Thanks so much for your message to our office regarding FAIR. I have been asked to respond. The following information is from the FAIR frequently asked questions page:

<http://www.fldoe.org/faq/default.asp?Dept=4&ID=1290>

Will private schools have access to the new assessments?

Because the new assessments are funded with public school funds, private schools will not have access to the free assessment materials and PMRN. Private schools wishing to use the assessments may purchase the paper and pencil K-2 assessments, with the understanding that the PMRN will not be available. Access would not be available for the 3-12 assessments, as those assessments are provided online with a direct link to the PMRN. Districts have the option to include private schools in the professional development provided on the new assessments.

I am attaching a price list and copying Stephen Horne, my contact at Drummond Press, in case you are interested in purchasing K-2 FAIR materials. I am also attaching the FAIR 3-12 Tool Kit that includes paper/pencil measures that you can use with your students.

Please let me know if you have any additional questions.

Sincerely,

Kevin Smith,

Subject: testing?

Hello,

I am with Lighthouse Christian School in Lafayette County. I really would like the opportunity to test using the PMRN website. This is an excellent screen/progress monitoring tool. I would appreciate any available information you could give me to get this started asap.

Sincerely,
Lori Land
