Hi Jessica,

Nice to meet you. In the email directly below this you will see the link that includes Florida's funding booklet and the pages where you will find out Dual enrollment and AP funding formulas. Hope this helps. Dont hesitate to contact me if you need further assistance.

See whether the Funding Booklet reference below answers the question. Dual Enrollment is described on page 12 and AP et al on pages 14-15. Let me know if this isn't enough.

Mary Jane,

I'd like to introduce you to Jessica Tucker, who is the policy director for Louisiana's new Commissioner, John White. I've worked with her previously on LA's waiver app, and some other reform policies. She's specifically looking for info on our AP/Dual Enrollment funding models, and instructional materials/electronic text info as it relates to Common Core.

Jessica,

I've worked with Mary Jane for over 10 years – she's top-notch. And she's a good person to know in the Florida DOE even if she sends you to someone else for your specific questions in this email.

Hope y'all have a great weekend.

Mary Laura

Mary Laura,

Thanks again for the PowerPoint. Were you able to get another contact?

Also, I want to talk with textbook/curriculum teams from Florida and Indiana regarding how they are preparing for Common Core and how they are incentivizing use of electronic texts. Do you have any suggestions for contacts or resources?

Jessica

Hey Jessica,

Hope you are well as well.

To get you started, I attached our standard power point presentation on our College Board partnership as background for how we incentivize and fund AP. I'm pulling some more info together on AP/DE, as well as contact info for you, and I'll get it to you asap.

Good to hear from you!

ML

Mary Laura,

How are you? Long time, no chat. Hope all is well.

We are trying to figure out ways to improve our accountability and funding of dual enrollment and AP. Florida was suggested as a model to mimick. Do you have any names of people that I could contact to learn more about their system?

Th

Jessica Tucker
